Message from the Board Chair

As chair of the board of directors, it is an honor to submit the 89th annual report to you, my fellow members of the Utah credit union family. In spite of being an industry that is in constant evolution, it impresses me that we've been able to continue to link arms in defense of this historic business model that benefits so many in our great state.

We are all deeply devoted to our own credit unions to be sure, but among my favorite parts about the credit union movement is we are undeniably part of a larger family. The shared ideals of people helping people is more than a philosophy or a mission statement. It is what we have the privilege of doing every day.

Utah's credit unions continue to meet the constantly changing field of play regardless of the external forces that can attempt to get in our way. Your trade association also continues to support and defend our operating environment.

Thank you for your continued commitment to our credit union family.

Sterling Nielsen Utah Credit Union Association Board Chair

Message from the President

It amazes me how incessantly changing forces come squarely at people who run credit unions. Continuous pressure is the only constant.

Utah credit unions are undeniably amazing. In my 20 years working with you, I've see you manage banker lawsuits and rounds of their legislative attacks, contentious election cycles, skyrocketing home prices, a global financial crisis, a local housing collapse, the creation of a new, invasive federal regulatory agency, a staggering pandemic, a unprecedent climb in interest rates, and the list goes on.

Through it all, Utah's credit unions have continued their founding aspiration to help their members gain access to their financial dreams. You've been there in their crisis. You've taken their hand when they were down. You've guided them through their most important decisions.

It is truly an honor to work with you to keep that founding vision real and alive in your members' lives.

Here's to many, many more years of success!

Scott Simpson President/CEO, Utah Credit Union Association

Report of the President

Scott Simpson said that it is rewarding to know that by working in the credit union industry, we are all fighting for a worthy cause. He reflected on the past two years and how credit unions had to adapt to all the challenges to serve their members.

He mentioned that the Credit Union Association (as well as credit unions) are being put in the middle of social practices that have little to do with finance but, people want businesses to take a stand on the issues. These changes make the political environment a bit trickier.

Scott stated that while the Association staff is lean, he is proud of all that has been accomplished in the last couple of years.
